PHILADELPHIA ELKS HERE TODAY

ARE VISITING IN MARYVILLE ON WAY TO OMAHA.

FRANK BUHLER IN PARTY

Former Maryville Boy Is Chairman of the Building Committee of Philadelphia Elks.

Sixteen members of the Elks lodge of Philadelphia, Pa., headed by Frank W. Buhler, a son of Mrs. Mary Buhler of this city, are visiting in Maryville today. The party arrived this morning in their special car over the Burlington and will leave this evening on the Wabash for Omaha.

The party is making a tour of inspecting Elks' buildings in the various cities in the central part of the country. They are also looking at other buildings in these cities for the purpose of getting features that can be used in the building to be built by the Elks in Philadelphia. The members of the party are on the building committee for the Elks' new home at Philadelphia.

The party stopped off in Maryville on account of Mr. Buhler, this place being his old home town. Mr. Buhler is chairman of the building committee. Mr. Buhler has made quite a success since locating in Philadelphia. He is vice president of the Stanley Theatre company, which has about fifty picture houses in Philadelphia.

The members of the party were taken for auto rides in and around Maryville, and visited at the Maryville Country Club. They were entertained at breakfast this morning at the Linville Hotel and taken to the Yehle tea room for lunch. They will be entertained at dinner this evening at the Elks club.

The visitors were very much impressed with Maryville. One visitor said what appealed to him about the town was the general cleanliness. They spoke highly of the Elks home here.

Mr. Buhler brought with him a film of about 700 feet showing scenes of the Elks national convention in Atlantic City this month. This picture has not been released but it was to be shown to a number of Elks this afternoon by using the Chamber of Commerce machine.

In the party are Mr. Buhler, Charles H. Grakelow, exalted ruler of the Philadelphia lodge, Louis N. Goldsmith, George H. Wobensmith, Samuel T. Banham, Everett M. Matthews, Albert H. Ladber, Benjamin Foster, Frank A. Mulherin, James A. Condon, Furey Ellis, Mortimer B. Gleeson, William Abrahams, George F. Ingram, J. J. Murphy, Frank Mulkern.

MOTORISTS ASKED NOT TO DRIVE PAST COLLEGE

To Do So This Evening Will Be a Drawback to the Program That Is to Be Given.

It is said that the program given at the lawn fete at the State Teachers College last year was much broken into by motor cars passing back and forth in front of the State Teachers College while it was going on. In view of this fact the committee in charge of the lawn fete tonight has asked drivers of cars not to drive past while the program is going on.

The weekly band concert, which is to be held in connection with the lawn fete, is to begin at 7:45 o'clock. It will last for about an hour and will be followed immediately by the program.

Most of the leading music institutes of the country use this system and Miss Wilfley will teach it to a class of children here. After she has had time for further study and preparation in the course she will establish a class in the Conservatory for teaching it to the students of the State Teachers College in order that they in turn may teach it to the pupils they will have in their schools.

AIM OF EDUCATION IS SOCIAL EFFICIENCY

This Is the Definition Given This Morning by Sam A. Baker, State Superintendent

"The aim of education is social efficiency," said Sam A. Baker, state superintendent of schools, in his talk at the State Teachers College to the students this morning.

Mr. Baker says that people are in penitentiaries because they are not properly socialized and 80 per cent of these people have not passed the eighth grade in their education. Fifty to 60 per cent of them have not passed the fourth grade.

The time to train folks so that they will be socially efficient is when they are children.

The vocational schools of the nation have brought big returns on the money that has been invested in them.

J. ROBINSON CIRCUS IS A GOOD ONE

SOME OF STUNTS ALMOST BEYOND IMAGINATION

HORSES KNOW MUSIC

Women Performers Go Through Things That Seem Impossible Even for Men

The John Robinson Circus has been pronounced by many as one of the best that has ever come to Maryville. Many of the stunts were so good that even the experienced circus goers wondered if they had ever in their lives seen anything along that line that was really as good.

Practically every trained animal and acrobatic stunt went off without a bobble and the things that were done looked impossible in almost every case. One of the remarkable things was the skill and endurance shown by the women performers. They did things that seemed impossible and they seemed to do them without becoming the least fatigued.

Another of the outstanding features was that of the trained animals. Ring masters tell of how their horses can keep step to the music, how they can dance and what not, but they do not usually get away with it well. This was not the case at the John Robinson Circus, however. Horses really danced to the music, marched to it and seemed to have the rythm the same as a human does. They were not only trained to music but they were trained to do about everything anyone ever heard tell of and a lot of things that he had not heard tell of. One of the remarkable things was a huge, ungainly elephant walking on his hind legs, carrying his trainer high in the air on his tusks.

The trapeze stunts at the close of the performance was one of the best hits. Performers made unheard of turns and flipflops high in the air and not one of them fell to the net.

The circus performance had one weakness and that was in its clowns, termed the "nation's gloom dispellers." The programs said that their mission was the making of genuine, button bursting fun. But they provoked but few laughs.

The John Robinson show has been complimented by many people here for its cleanliness and high moral demeanor. Some people have remarked that they did not hear a single oath from the circus folks and that they did not see any of the things that so often go with the circus and which tend to put it and its people in ill repute.

The business heads of the concern were in general nice men to deal with. Gardner Wilson, formerly of the Chicago Tribune, had charge of the publicity for the day of the performance and did his work well.

The John Robinson circus usually plays in larger places than Maryville and for this reason only about three fourths of the seats were put up here. A number of these were not taken in the afternoon, but pretty nearly everything was filled last night.

City officials say that the John Robinson Circus was one of the most orderly that ever came to town. They say that although the train carrying the circus arrived in Maryville at 3 o'clock yesterday morning not a move was made toward unloading until 5 o'clock on account of the fact that pulling up the streets so early in the morning would disturb the slumbers of so many Maryville people.

The extra members on the police force were almost without anything to do yesterday outside of caring for the traffic.

AGENTS MAY BE EXCLUDED FROM GOING TO COLLEGE

President Lamkin Sounds Warning After Student Is Called From a Class.

If salesmen and students are not careful the "No agent or solicitors allowed" sign will go up at the State Teachers College. President Uel W. Lamkin sounded the warning at an assembly of the students this morning.

The other day an insurance agent got up enough nerve to go to the building, call a student out of class and keep him out while the recitation was going on. This came to the notice of Mr. Lamkin. He warned the students not to let such things happen and said that agents would be excluded if it was not stopped.

LONG ISSUES A CHALLENGE TO REED

ASKS SENATOR TO SIGN OPEN LETTER TO JUDGES.

NOTICE TO THE VOTERS

Judges Called on to Keep Republicans From Voting Democratic Primary Ticket.

Springfield, Mo., July 20—An open challenge to Senator Reed to sign a statement urging all Republicans and Socialists to vote for their nominees at the August primary and calling on all judges and clerks of elections to use every effort to keep Republicans and socialists from voting at the Democratic primary, was contained in a message sent from here last night by Breckinridge Long, Democratic candidate for the senatorial nomination.

Long also sent a telegram to Reed discussing the Stanley-Spencer incident in Washington.

Long's Telegram To Reed

The telegram and statement sent to Reed follows:

"Senator James A. Reed, Kansas City, Mo.

"The speech of Senator Stanley was evidently made with the intention of creating the impression that Senator Spencer and other Republicans are attempting to bring about your defeat. Of course, you and I each know that just the reverse is true in Missouri, and we now realize that your manager has written letters to Republicans and to Socialists asking them to support you in the coming primary election. Senator Stanley probably does not realize that, but he should realize that it was Senator Spencer's opponent whom you helped to defeat two years ago, and he might presume that Senator Spencer and his friends might now be in a kindly mood, and attempt to manifest their appreciation of the help you rendered Spencer in that campaign.

Ask Reed To Join In Open Letter

"Of course, I do not want Republicans to vote in a Democratic primary. That practice is contrary to the theory of our political system. Party nominations should be made by members of the party.

"However, since Senator Stanley, speaking in your behalf, has brought up the point of Republicans voting in our primary, I am taking the opportunity to ask you to join with me in an open letter to the voters of Missouri, repudiating the alleged movement of Republicans and Socialists to vote in our primary, and asking the election officials of the state to require all the voters not heretofore known to have been affiliated with the Democratic party to take the oath prescribed by law that they will support all the nominees of the Democratic party in November.

"I am transmitting separately a subgested form for the opening letter, and ask you to affirm your approval of it. Of course, we invite Republicans to vote with us in November, and will welcome them into our party after the nominations are made, but in order to maintain and preserve the integrity of the Democratic party, I feel very strongly that our party decisions should be made by our party members, and take the means of bringing it to the attention of the voters of the state."

Long Suggests Form of Letter

The form suggested by Long follows:

"To the Voters of Missouri: We, the undersigned, are candidates for the Democratic nomination for United States senator in the primary to be held August 1, 1922. The letter and spirit of the primary law contemplates

ROAD PLANS ARE MEETING FAVOR

ONLY MINOR CHANGES IN HIGH WAY DESIGNATIONS.

MANY INDORSEMENTS

It Is Believed General Satisfaction Over Commission's Selections Will be Expressed.

Few changes have been suggested the 1,500 mile primary road designation, recommended last week by engineers of the state highway department, says the Kansas City Star. When the public hearing begins next Tuesday at Jefferson City, preparatory to entering the final order of the highway commission, it is believed that general satisfaction will be expressed at the plan of designation.

"We have received favorable comments and indorsements for our proposed layout from practically every section of the state," R. J. Windrow, representative of Theodore Gary, chairman of the highway commission said yesterday. "Only a few minor changes have been suggested for the most part. If additions are made, owing to the legal restriction on the mileage, it will be necessary to find some place where primary roads that have been recommended can be eliminated."

Following are some of the changes and additions to the primary system that have been recommended:

A connection between Joplin and Neosho.

A connection between Lexington and Higginsville.

A road from Springfield to Cabool, thence to Rolla, eliminating the direct route from Springfield to Rolla, recommended by the highway engineers.

Also, the extreme southern section of the state desires a road from Cabool through Doniphan, directly east through Poplar Bluff, Dexter, Sikeston, to Bird's Point on the Mississippi River. To obtain the necessary mileage for this cross-state road through the southern part of the state, it has been suggested the connection from Jefferson City to Rolla and Rolla to Springfield, Sedalia south to Springfield, and all the stub lines running out from the Kansas City-St. Louis road, be eliminated.

That the road connecting Cameron, on the St. Joseph-Hannibal road, be changed to terminate at Liberty instead of Excelsior Springs.

That the Kansas City-St. Joseph road passing through Platte City be changed so as to pass through Smithville, going through Clinton County instead of Platte County.

Supporters of several cross-state highway routes are approving the primary road designation. The chief opposition now is from Jefferson City, where the promoters of the Capital highway insist the Kansas City-St. Louis road should go south of the Missouri River the entire distance, passing east and west through Jefferson City.

A. W. Graham, former state highway engineer, said yesterday he approved the primary road designation.

John Malang of Joplin, who was largely responsible for the idea of primary and secondary roads in the state road law, was here Saturday. It is understood he favors the immediate building of roads, and stopping the local fights over road designations.

BELIEVE R. R. STRIKE TO END IN 2 WEEKS

THIS IN SPITE OF PREPARATIONS FOR LONG FIGHT

POINTS TO NEBRASKA

Gompers Says Primary Election a Result of Governor's Mental Attitude in Strike

Chicago, July 20.—Though striking shopmen are ostensibly prepared for a long fight, following the statement that a settlement could not be brought about, the belief is prevalent at the strike headquarters that the strike will end in two weeks. It is believed that the pressing move for peace will bring it about.

Washington, July 20—Organized labor pointed to Nebraska previous to the primary election as a "result of the rebuke to the Republican old guard tactics" and warned the administration that more was coming. Samuel Gompers attributes defeats to the governor's mental policy in handling the coal and railroad strikes.

Monongahela, Pa., July 20—Three Pennsylvania railroad detectives and a constable patrolling the road, following an attempt to blow up a railroad bridge, were ambushed and shot. One of the officers is expected to die. State police and railroad detectives are searching for the assailants.

Washington, July 20.—Charging that the United States marshals are not furnishing deputies to guard the men working at Delcon, General Manager Whitenton of the Katy Railroad reported to the post office department that there will be no trains from Delcon to cross the plains of Stamford to Roten until protection is furnished.

Augusta, Ga., July 20.—Six men, supposedly railroad strikers, were arrested on federal warrants charging interference with the mails, pursuant to the President's proclamation against interfering with interstate commerce and movement of the mail trains.

HARDING EXPECTS TO ACT ON STRIKES IN 48 HOURS

Is Believed With aRilroad Situation Settled Country Could be Supplied With Coal.

The belief is created by the collapse of the labor board's efforts to pacify the factions.

With the rail strike settled it is believed that there is a chance of averting the coal shortage, with a resumption of the operation of the mines with troops for protection.

THE RATIO FOR PUBLICITY

Business experts recommend that mercantile concerns set aside a certain definite portion of their receipts for publicity work, as a part of the essential sales expense. Different firms differ on the ratio that should be established. It may need to be more in quiet times than in rush periods, on the theory that it takes more effort to sell goods in times of slow trade.

The head of a well known big city department store, says he expects to spend five per cent of his sales on publicity. Two per cent of sales goes into newspaper advertising and the rest to window space, the cost of trimming it in novel striking ways, etc. Probably the majority would say this is too much relatively for window space.

The problem for the average merchant is not so much attracting in the crowd that goes by the store, as in-

Lots of "kiddies" and some older folks, came in yesterday to get a circus day souvenir. The circus is now only a memory, but the souvenirs will cause smiles for days to come.

Some people, from a distance, took advantage of the occasion by taking home those things which are permanent conveniences and necessities. Among them, C. H. Ruddle, over on the Atchison County line, purchased a fine STEER HIDE saddle and bridle for his son.

C. S. Johnson, sixteen miles northwest, has threshers in his neighborhood and couldn't come to town, so he took advantage of our reasonably priced delivery service and had us send him a Grain Belt wagon box by truck.

Ernest Wray, secretary of the Myrtle Tree Threshing Machine Company, phoned in at 6 o'clock yesterday evening and said that A. B. Dowden would be here "in a minute" for some belting. We don't know how far they came, but Dowden and Wray Jr. were here in a "jiffy," got the belt and said they would be threshing again in another minute. That Myrtle Tree crowd is sure a bunch of hustlers.

No Place in the circus for flapper. Says Mother Of Nelson Girls

"There is one freak missing from the Robinson circus; we have no specimen of the so-called flapper!"

The mother of the six Nelson girls, acrobats, mentioned the deficiency yesterday with pride. She She sat combing the bobbed blonde hair of Theol, the fourth daughter before sending her back to the ring for a slack wire performance.

"There'll never be a flapper in any circus," pursued the circus mother. "Because as soon as they get to be flappers they must stop being circus performers. A flapper couldn't stand the gaff.'

"I've heard so much talk about flappers who smoke cigarettes, wear outrageous clothes and carry a pocket flask that I am glad I brought up my girls, as I have. I've no use for 'flappers.' They are not doing the world any good."

The troupe was in the dressing room tent. The mother had finished her act. Oneida, Estrella and Theol were to make two more appearances, one on high school horses and again in the slack-wire act.

"A fine chance we would have doing an acrobatic 'turn,'" observed Theol, twisting her lithe body about to peer into the tiny mirror set in the lid of her dressing trunk, "if we tried the jazzing, late hours, cocktail-drinking career of modern flappers. There would be a broken back or leg in the troupe every time we put on the act."

"Anyway, we have a good time," broke in the eldest of the Nelson girls, who is the wife of the ticket superintendent in the show. "We have the use of the horses, and we swim and there are plenty of chances to dance."

"Sometimes we camp in the open country with the birds, like gypsies," observed Oneida, "and gather berries and wash our stockings in a running brook. This beats a 'flapper' and having beaux and parties."

Theol, the Nelson girl, who turns from forty to fifty "flip-flops" as the climax of the swiftly-moving somersault feature of the Nelson's act, is captain of the Mt. Clemens (Mich.) high school team, where she was a junior this year.

She appeared in the ring during the big equestrian act, wearing a trig tweed riding suit, a beaver sailor and patent-leather boots that constituted a gift from the circus the first time she ever turned 50 flip-flops.

"I'd rather," she submitted, smiling, as she pulled on the second boot and grasped her crop, 'I'd rather be the world's greatest flipflopper—than to be the world's flippest-flapper!"

forming people in their homes as to what market conditions are and what special offerings are being made. But whatever ratios are agreed upon in any concern, a business house makes and advance step when it recognizes that it mast set aside a certain regular proportion of its income for selling campaigns.

Salesmanship is a job of convincing the people that it is for their interest to make certain purchases. That job of persuading the public is not an offhand matter, to be begun when a customer passes a show window or walks up to the counter where the goods are displayed. It has to be prepared for in advance. It has to be continued over indefinite periods. It is an endless task.

The enterprising store carries on this work of publicity in order that people shall understand its methods, realize the quality of goods handled, know of special opportunities as they sit down at leisure to read their favorite journal, and study advertising that interests them.

President Harding has invited coal operators to open their mines. The next thing will be to get men to work in them. It is easy to fill a trough with water, but not so easy sometimes to get the horse to drink.

that only voters heretofore affiliated with the Democratic party, or who are willing to make oath that they will at the November election vote for all the nominees of the Democratic party, are entitled to vote in the Democratic primary.

"It has been said in many parts of Missouri that large numbers of Republicans and Socialists intend to participate in the Democratic primary for the purpose of influencing the nomination of the Democratic candidate for United States senator.

Notice To The Voters

"This is to notify all voters who have not heretofore affiliated with the Democratic party, and who will not in good faith take the oath prescribed by law of the state to vote for all the nominees of the Democratic party this fall, that they have no moral or legal right to vote in the Democratic primary, and we protest against their voting therein, and hereby notify such Republicans and Socialists who contemplate doing so that we do not desire their votes.

"We call on all judges and clerks of the primary election to use every endeavor to keep well known Republicans and Socialists from voting in the Democratic primary, and to require all voters not heretofore known to have affiliated with the Democratic party to take oath, as required by law, that they will at the November election support all nominees of the Democratic party."

Wilfred White, Sam Bithos and George Dimas left in Mr. White's car for Chicago this morning for a visit. Mr. White will join his wife in that city who has been visiting there for a few weeks. They will not return until the first week in August.

Threshing Begins

The rains have ceased for a while at least and many are now threshing in this vicinity. It is thought the oats have been damaged more than the wheat by the heavy rains. Clem Jeffers has threshed out already a car load of wheat that grades three and four, the No. 4 netting him 94 cents and the No. 3, 97 cents. DeWitt & Vern Jeffers threshed Tuesday and Wednesday, their wheat grading No. 2 and bringing a dollar. If it keeps dry, it is though most of the wheat threshed from now on will grade No. 2.—Hopkins Jornal.

Do You Know?

that this is the season of the year that many markets are supplied in a large measure with soft, grassy cattle and that meat from this class of animals is inferior to that of cornfeds?

Don't be misled by low prices. Watch for the "chalky white" and "marbled" meats that spell "cornfed."

As long as there is a cornfed to be had we will have it.

Remember the name that stands for the best.

Club Meets Tomorrow.

Senator Stanley of Kentucky, the leader of the liquor sympathizers in the senate, made a speech in the senate the other day attacking Senator Spencer for endeavoring to find out who is leading in the race for the democratic nomination for the senate from Missouri. Senator Stanley is one of Senator Reed's closest friends in the senate and paid a glowing tribute to his ability as a speaker. He also declared that there was a republican conspiracy to defeat Senator Reed in Missouri. Senator Stanley has his wires crossed and should be posted on the situation in Missouri. He evidently doesn't know that Senator Reed's friends are counting on thousands of republican votes for him in the primaries and that one of their main talking points is that he will command a great number of republican votes in November. Senator Stanley may know what is going on in the United States Senate, but he displays a woeful ignorance of the situation in Missouri.

Mrs. George Dougan left today for her home in Bedford, Ia., after a few days' visit with Mrs. Ed Masters.

Women Need Not Have Wrinkles From Motoring

Have you heard about what the beauty parlors call the "automobile skin?" inquires a writer in Pictorial Review. So many of their customers come in with tiny wrinkles at the corners of the mouth, a dry, tightened skin and dusty eyebrows. This comes from constant motoring in the sun and wind and rain, over oily roads and sandy hills, without the protection of goggles and without the proper care of the skin when the drive is over. Of course the beauty parlors rejoice over it because the women rush frantically in to have the ravages repaired. Now, why not do this yourself at home?

In the first place, those tiny wrinkles at the corners of the eyes come from eye strain, and you can prevent that by wearing goggles, or colored glasses, when driving in the sun and over sandy roads. The oculists generally recommend lenses with a soft yellow ting to remove the strain on the eyes which causes squinting, which in time causes the wrinkles. If, however, you have already acquired the winkles, your only hope is to massage with an astringent cream in a rotary motion about the corners of the eyes. Wash off the cream with hot water and finally apply ice to the corners, rubbing it in a circular motion. This stimulates the muscles after the massage.

When you come in from a drive do not wash your face with soap and water—no matter how much dirt and grime you have accumulated. Do not use water on your skin for many hours after a long drive. Instead wash the face with witch hazel, a healing liquid, or a cleansing cold cream, then pat dry. These are things which ought to be found on the shelf of every bathroom. Be sure you pat your face dry with a soft old towel, and do not rub it vigorously. The point is to let the lotion or cream soak into the skin and heal. When dry, dust your face with powder, and do not wash with soap and water until you go to bed at night.

Why That Lame Back?

That morning lameness — those sharp pains when bending or lifting, make work a burden and rest impossible. Don't be handicapped by a bad back—look to your kidneys. You will make no mistake by following this Maryville resident's example.

Louis Anderson, 804 North Walnut Street, says: "I had a bad fall which left my back in poor condition. I suffered for some time from dull pains which caught me in the small of my back and my back was lame and sore. I felt miserable and worn out and was hardly able to be about. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills in a local paper and purchased some. The first box brought great relief and after I had taken three boxes I was cured of the attack. I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Anderson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

THINKS CAMPUS HERE BEATS ONE AT WARRENSBURG

Party From That Place and Kansas City Much Pleased With What They See Here.

"The Commercial Club is O. K., so is the Park," it the way the register at the tourist park reads, but in talking to eight tourists from Kansas City and Warrensburg they said that the park was one of the finest they had seen. Mrs. Stephens, who is on the advisory board of the Y. W. C. A. of the Central Missouri State Teachers College of Warrensburg, said that she believed that the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College had Warrensburg beaten when it came to a campus.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fellows and children, Ruth and Clifford, and Guy C. Smith of Kansas City and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stephens and son, William, Jr., passed through Maryville this afternoon and were shown the points of interest of the city by George A. Pickens.

They were enroute to St. Paul to spend a two weeks vacation. They had followed the Itasca Park Highway from Kansas City with a detour from Savannah. They said that they were surprised to find the roads so dusty after the recent rains.

J. R. McLarm of Des Moines, who registered at the Tourist Park in his remarks said: "This town must have a fine bunch of business men.....this park hsows it."

STORY OF A GOLD BRICK ALMOST SOLD TO BILBY

Quitman Man Almost Paid Out $20,000 for Brick Valued at $8.00.

In detective quarters at Central Police Station in St. Joseph is an old case in which trophies and curios collected by the detectives in their work are kept, says the St. Joseph News-Press. This paper had the following: Of late years, however, the old cabinet has been neglected and no new exhibits have been added. Formerly the articles were numbered and an index book giving the history of each trophy was kept. This also has been abandoned.

In the cabinet are guns, knives, keys, pieces of fuses, battered safe combinations, masks, a hammer with which a murder was committed, a red lantern used in flagging a train in an attempted train robbery and many other interesting things used by criminals. But the most interesting exhibit probably is a large gold-like dise, a foot in diameter and two inches thick. A hole is in the center of the disc and in places is tarnished and turned green. Inquiry of the officers will reveal that the disc was once used as a bogus gold brick.

Farmer Was Victimized.

Originally there were two of the bricks, but the other has been destroyed. The one remaining is composed of copper and other metals and its actual value is about $8. And for these two bricks the late John S. Bilby of Quitman, Mo., wealthy banker and farmer, and at the time of his death several years ago reported to be the largest individual land owner in the United States, nearly paid $20,000.

As the story goes, about eighteen years ago Bilby met two men who had the "bricks" while in Omaha and arranged to purchase them. Bilby was told they were worth many times the price he was paying, but the men said they had to sell them quickly and at a private sale in order to avoid litigation that would arise if a third man was to learn of the sale. To prove that the "bricks" were the real article one of the men bored out a portion from each brick and took Bilby to a chemist who analyzed the sample as real gold. This was enough for Bilby.

Fulkerson Was Suspicious.

Accordingly the "bricks" were shipped to St. Joseph and Bilby and one of the men came to St. Joseph to complete the deal. Bilby went with the man to the First National Bank, then in the Saxton building at Fourth and Francis streets, and made a draft on the bank for $20,000 cash. Walter P. Fulkerson, present president of the police commission, was then cashier of the bank, and he suspected Bilby was risking his money.

Therefore he refused to give Bilby the money at the time and told him to return in the afternoon when he could pay the draft. In the meantime the police had been notified and Henry Frans, then chief, and Richard Fulks, chief of detectives, came to the bank. They did not immediately arrest the man as they wished to get an actual case on him, and no crime had as yet been committed.

Never Caught Crook.

Bilby was stopping at the Pacific House, now the Metropole, and when he left the bank went there with the confidence men. The two officers followed. However, the confidence man evidently "got on" to the police and succeeded in making his escape from the hotel by crossing from the Pacific House to the Bacon House through on overhead areaway. The "bricks" later were found at the Francis Street passenger station. The owners never called for them.

Bilby, according to those familiar with the story, resented the interference of the bank officials and the police even after the swindle was exposed. One man says that from that day until Bilby died, the latter never spoke to him. Nothing more was ever seen of the confidence man.

Poorest Town in World.

The poorest village in the world has just been "discovered" by R. N. Davidson of Ashland, Ky., director of refugees for the Near East relief in northwestern Armenia. The village is Ermonins, located in an almost inaccessible mountain gorge ten miles from any city.

"The village, with more than 1,000 inhabitants, has not a single window nor a single chimney," said Mr. Davidson on his return to the central depot with 150 destitute orphan children from Ermonins.

Ahem!

After much squabbling over the numerous dolls which they must take to bed with them every night, Joan, age four, and Madge, age two, had been finally kissed and tucked in for the night by a tired mother.

After a half-hour's silence, shrill voices were heard in a hot debate. Mother opened the poor just in time to see Madge scoot under the cover, whereupon Joan piped, "Mother, I just can't go to sleep 'cause Madge sits up in bed and says bad words to me."

MAY RESUME WORK ON DAM TOMORROW.

Work may perhaps be resumed on the dam at the One Hundred and Two tomorrow, Mayor F. P. Robinson said this afternoon. The high water washed a huge hole on the east side of the dam. Another carload of rock has been received and it is thought that rip-raping can be begun in the morning. This is the second load of rock which has been received.

Mother-To-Be, Read This—

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers. When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes.

Note: Write for valuable free illustrated book, "Motherhood and the Baby," containing important authoritative information which every expectant mother should have, and all about "Mother's Friend." to Bradfield Regulator Company, BA-33, Atlanta, Ga. "Mother's Friend" is sold by druggists everywhere.

ABSENTEE VOTING IS VALID IN MISSOURI

Ruling Applies to Primary as Well as General Election

Jefferson City, Mo., July 20—Absentee voting is valid in the August day by assistant Attorney General primaries, according to an opinion to Henry Davis. He held that the absentee voting also applies to the primaries as well as the general election. Under the ruling any person who is absent from his home August 1 can go to any voting precinct in the state, cast his ballot and have it forwarded to the voting officials of his residence In his opinion, Davis said:

"Our absentee ballot law permits any voter who is absent from his voting precinct on election day to go to any other voting precinct in Missouri and cast a ballot, which shall be forwarded to the proper official or officials of his residence. That is the only general statute which we have on absentee voting."

Davis held that this law, which is found in Section 4751 of the Revised Statutes of Missouri, 1919, applies to voting in the primary as well as in the general election.

The section applying to this matter reads as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for an employe of any railroad company, traveling salesman, student of any college of the state, state officer or other person, being a qualified elector of the state of Missouri, who may, on the occurrence of any general or primary election be unavoidably absent from the county in which he resides and is a qualified voter therein, because his duties, occupation or business requires him to be elswhere within the state on the day of such general or primary election, to vote for county, district and state officers, members of the legislature, members of congress and electors for the president and vice president of the United States at any voting precinct within the state of Missouri, where he may present himself for that purpose on the day of said general or primary election, under the conditions and regulations hereinafter prescribed."

THE CANINE CANNOT DRINK AT HUMANE SOCIETY FOUNTAIN

Place Provided for Him at Northeast Corner of the Square Has Ceased to Function

One of the features of the fountain at the northeast corner of the courthouse square has become antiquated. It is that of the place at which the canines could go up, lap freely and noisely and then go away with their thirst satisfied.

The fountain was placed there in 1911. Whether there were more dogs then to drink out of the place prepared for them than there are now is not known. City officials say that the leads to these receptacles became stopped up and that they were never cleaned out. The fountain was presented to the city by the National Humane Society.

It has been suggested that the fountain has become antiquated for all purposes since the motor car has taken the place of this faithful horse for travel to such an extent. Mayor Robinson says, however, that this is not the case. People who make their business that of hauling depend on the place as one where they can take their horses. Farmers coming in with their wagons and crops stop to give their horses a drink.

OBSERVANCE OF TRAFFIC RULES SAVES CHILD'S LIFE

Motorists at Main and Third Street Stopped His Machine In Time

The fact that a motor car driver in Maryville was observing the traffic rules the other day saved a mother from seeing her child killed before her eyes, saved the child's life and saved the driver from having a horrible vision that he could never forget.

A mother was crossing the street at Main and Third. She was leading her little 3-year-old child. She had been leading the youngster for sometime and slightly weary with her shopping. The child was restless. In the middle of the street she noticed that her mother was not holding her hand tightly. She slipped her hand from that of her mothers and ran south on the east side of Main street.

A motor car was coming up the street from the south and was but a few yards away, with the child running toward it.

The mother uttered a little cry and wrung her hands.

A policeman at the traffic sign at the intersection, too far away to be of assistance, closed his eyes, rather than see the tragedy he thought was to happen.

The driver of the car was going slow. He slammed on the breaks and the machine came to a stop just as the child ran against it.

INDEPENDENT OUT FOR SENATE

G. D. McLean of Newton, Mo., a Farmer, Declares Candidacy

Jefferson City, July 20—The first independent candidate to announce himself for any office in Missouri is George D. McLean of Newton, Sullivan County. He desires to make the race for United States senator, subject to the November election and will have to qualify himself by filing thousand names and pay $100 into petitions containing not less than one the state revenue fund.

"I am a farmer candidate," says Mr. McLean, "and owe no allegiance to any one political party."

His platform contains nine general specifications and are quite lengthy. McLean's petitions did not accompany his declaration, but he says they will follow during the week.

VACANT LOT OWNERS HAVING BIG FIGHT WITH WEEDS

They Have, in Some Cases, Laid Low the Second and Third Crops This Season

Owners of vacant lots have had the hardest fight in keeping weeds down this summer that they have had in several years. On some of the lots it has been necessary to cut the second and third crops of weeds.

When a lot grows too high with weeds the city officials notify the owners to cut them and they are usually laid low without further notice.

About the only difficulty there is to getting weeds cut in Maryville, officials say, is in the case of lots owned by people who do not live here. If they have an agent here to look after their property the city looks to the agent to cut the weeds and he usually does. But if there is no agent it is sometimes difficult to bring pressure to bear on the owners so that he will have the mowing done.

The property owners of Maryville are much more responsive to civic pride and to warnings from the city officials to cut the weeds than they are in a lot of towns.

Miss Josephine Price of Bolckow will visit the remainder of the week with Miss Zoe McKee.
